H. G. SHAW WANTS IMPORTANT OFFICE

Asks to Serve People of Fulton County
As Sheriff.

In this issue of the Courier Express H. G. Shaw, candidate for Sheriff of Fulton County at the coming August primary, Mr. Shaw needs no introduction to the people of Fulton County. He was born and reared in the county, being the son of the late G. L. Shaw and Mrs. Mary Shaw, and is one of a family of thirteen children. He was appointed by the governor to the position of magistrate of the fourth district, and four years ago was elected without opposition to succeed himself. As a member of the Fulton County Board of Health he has demonstrated his ability and ability in making care of the interests of the county and the district which he represents. During his magistracy he has succeeded in securing the building of many miles of new roads in the fourth district, which has been the lower bottom.

He has been very successful as a stockman and farmer, which profession he has always followed. He is one of the county's most progressive and wide awake farmers, and it is hoped, the county will be fortunate in having a man with the understanding of business principles to execute the numerous and varied demands that are made upon such an official.

No man stands higher as a first-class citizen than does Hiram Shaw, and the confidence and esteem of his fellow countrymen are deserved by him. In the affairs of the democratic party he has always been zealous and active, never faltering when called to duty in behalf of it.

It will be his purpose to see every voter in the county before the primary and present his claims in person, and through our columns, Mr. Shaw submits his candidacy to the care of the electorate of the county, with his splendid record as a citizen and a loyal Democrat, to commend him to the people, and the further necessary attribute of possessing the ability to correctly administer the affairs of the office.

Don't forget him in August.

TWO BOYS BADLY HURT BY SAW

Charles Holland and Everett Young Injured Friday Evening.

Charles Holland and Everett Young, both of whom live in the eastern part of town, were seriously injured Friday evening at about five o'clock, when a saw frame in a portable gasoline sawmill gave way, hurling the saw through the air onto the boys. The saw first struck Holland, and then jumped over onto Young.

Holland's left arm was almost severed from the shoulder, the bone being badly crushed, his right arm was badly cut below the elbow, the bone also being broken, besides having a tooth knocked out and sustained other injuries in his upper lip and nose. Young was cut severely through the back and sustained slight injuries in other places. Holland is 24 years of age and is an over-sized veteran, while Young, a boy of 15 years, has already established for himself quite a reputation as a stock breeder, being the champion hog raiser of all the boys in the county in the state. He took first prize at all fairs in West Kentucky, first prize of boys' pig clubs in Louisville, and second prize on hogs shown by the best breeders in the state. He also took several prizes at the Hickman Community Fair last October.

The accident occurred while the boys were cutting cordwood in East Hickman. Dr. J. H. Young, father of Everett, saw the mishap and rushed to their assistance, doing what he could to stop the flow of blood until medical attention could be had. Dr. C. W. Curran, Dr. H. B. Prather and Dr. J. M. Hubbard were called in and for a time it seemed that amputation might be necessary in Holland's case. Miss Laura Holland, sister of the injured boy, was summoned immediately from Dyersburg, arriving on the night C. M. & G. train. When a more complete examination of the injuries was had it was decided that amputation might be avoided.

According to latest reports from the injured boys, they are doing as well as could be expected, although they are in severe pain.

Both boys are well known here and are highly respected and well liked by everyone.

TO LEAVE FOR MISSISSIPPI

Hon. W. J. McMurry will leave next week for Clarksdale, Miss., where he will be connected with the Yazoo Delta Mortgage Co., a five-million dollar loan company recently organized. He will act in the capacity of title examiner for this company, which is one of the largest of its kind in the state. Until the work of the mortgage company has been fully developed, he will be connected with the office of S. J. Dodds, formerly of Hickman, attending to the legal work of Mr. Dodds. Mac is one of the foremost members of the local bar, and represented Hickman and Fulton Counties in the legislature for one term. He is one of the most universally popular men in the county and his multitude of friends give him up to Mississippi reluctantly.

LEE ARMSTRONG'S HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

The house belonging to Lee Armstrong, who lives near Blue Pond, was completely destroyed by fire Friday afternoon. Mr. Armstrong's wife was in bed at the time the fire was discovered, and she was in the field gathering. She did not get out that the fire had started. Mrs. Armstrong was taken from the house with her husband, and the fire was caused by a spark from a stove. The fire was caused by a spark from a stove. The fire was caused by a spark from a stove.

which the family was wearing at the time were destroyed and there was no insurance on either the house or the household goods. Mrs. C. A. Symons left Thursday afternoon to attend the bedside of her husband, Mrs. C. A. Symons, who was injured on Friday.

J. Virgil Chapman, State Supervisor of Rural Schools, will speak at Brownsburg, Friday afternoon, Jan. 28, on rural schools. Patrons of Fair View, Beech Grove and Graves school districts are especially invited to hear him. J. P. Elliott of Memphis is visiting relatives in the city this week.

CLARENCE REED FOR SHERIFF

Pledges Himself to Give a Strictly Business Administration.

In our announcement column this week will be found the name of W. C. (Clarence) Reed, at present the efficient cashier of the Hickman Bank and Trust Co.

Mr. Reed is not unknown in Fulton County, having been born within its borders and spending practically his entire life here. He is a native of the City of Fulton. He began in the banking business at Fulton, afterward coming to Hickman, and has an accumulated experience, which we assume will be of much value to one chosen to the office to which he aspires. Also Mr. Reed has been county treasurer for the past several years, discharging his duties in a way that augurs well for his competency and again denotes potential good for him in the sheriff's office.

His aggressiveness in any undertaking may well be based on his activities during the war. He was chairman of the third, fourth and Victory Loan drives, all of which, in the parlance prevalent at the time, "went over the top" with a whoop.

Mr. Reed has a platform, naturally—a program, you might say—in case of his being favored in his ambition, the foundation of this platform is concentrated service. He pledges that he will devote his entire time to the office to the end that it may function like a well-oiled machine. He will discontinue his present vocation and abstain from entering any other during his incumbency. He promises to pick his deputies solely for their fitness and ability—no other consideration will be allowed to enter.

Identally fitted for the position—a young man possessing excellent character, tact and business acumen; one who will discharge the duties of the sheriff's post without fear or favor, Mr. Reed presents those natural qualities that fit him in every possible way for the office of sheriff.

The most exacting citizen could not require more than Mr. Reed is prepared to give; the most critical could not wish for a plainer platform.

JOHN THOMPSON FOR SHERIFF

Promises to Fill the Office With Credit to Himself and Party if Elected.

The friends of John M. Thompson have again prevailed upon him to enter the race for sheriff of Fulton County, believing that he is the man to fill that important office, therefore in this week's Courier will be found his announcement as a candidate for sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election, August 6, 1921.

Mr. Thompson made the race for sheriff in the last primary but was defeated, but no one will deny that his popularity was demonstrated to the fullest extent, because the large vote he received was indeed gratifying to himself and friends, for the first time out for office. He made a clean fight from start to finish, in 1917, and will make a clean fight for the nomination this time. He is a loyal Democrat and has always been enthusiastic in his support of the party principles. He has spent his life in this county and has a wide acquaintance and scores of friends and admirers who want to see him elected sheriff, because they know he will fill the office with credit to his supporters and himself.

Mr. Thompson asks the voters of Fulton County to give their careful consideration to his candidacy and promises if elected, to give his best efforts to the faithful and conscientious discharge of the duties that will come before him. John M. Thompson is capable in every way to fill the sheriff's office, and if elected will make a fearless and faithful official, and will be impartial in all his official dealings with the public.

The women voters should have in mind, too, that he will appreciate their vote and support just the same as that of the men.

He solicits your vote and support.

Full House Seen "Jolly Tourists Express" Monday Night.

"The Jolly Tourists Express," a two-act farce comedy given under the auspices of the Aurora Townsend Post No. 57 of the American Legion, was shown at the Rex Theatre Monday night to an audience which taxed the capacity of the building. The cast of characters included only home talent, and the excellent way in which the parts were portrayed showed the hard work and able direction which had been given in its preparation.

Especially pleasing were the numerous musical numbers, consisting of solos, duets and choruses, which were abundantly interspersed throughout both acts.

So well was every part played and each number rendered that it would be almost impossible to single out any one star. It was one of the best shows ever given by Hickman talent, and the audience showed its appreciation frequently by the abundant applause.

Due to the success of "The Jolly Tourists Express" the American Legion will probably lay plans for another play in the future.

IMPROVEMENTS ON LEVEE.

The city levee is in better shape now than at any time since its construction. Some few weeks ago the wave washed places all along the levee extending from below the N. C. depot to where it joins the government levee. The levee was cut far in in many places. After this was replaced the work of then protecting same all along from the washing of the waves was undertaken and a wall has now been built to prevent this. The high winds do more damage to the levee than the high stage of water generally but with a wall to break these waves this will be eliminated almost entirely. This work has been done at quite a big expense.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

Alleghenian troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a general strength-giving tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or diaphor the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

"WHEN WE GO SWIMMING"

Way down in the country,
Where the tall corn grows,
Where the cotton chaper's hoe,
Where the bird's are singing
And the bee's is humming, too;
Where the grass is always greenest
And the sky a baby blue.

There's a big old pond of water,
Where we fellows take a swim,
And we have a grand old time,
Me and Fat and Bill and Slim.
The water's so fine,
And we feel so dogged good,
Sometimes we forget and—
Stay in longer than we should.

Then we crawl out of the water
And dress in just a minute;
And we go a-sneaking home,
Ma says "This is the limit,"
And the next time you go swimming!
I'll whip you sure as sin."
Next day it's just the same old thing,
For we all go in again.

The above poem was written by Miss Rosa Beckham of this city and appeared in the Memphis Commercial-Appel Sunday on the children's page, taking first place among the poems submitted to that department by children for publication.

There is nothing a work where only your hands are used. And so if you enter a chord in the scale you find. You may look to the sky, you may look to the earth, but you will find that the laborer is honored.

HELPFUL HINTS.

Sometimes it happens that one here is left. It is pity to waste so good a dish. Try the Italian method of serving it, though this is not a leftover, but a choice dish prepared for an occasion. Cut the omelette in strips a quarter of an inch wide, heat in butter, sprinkle with grated cheese and serve with gravy or any sauce, seasoned with vegetables such as celery, onion, tomato and parsley.

The use of vegetable oysters (anchovy) in chicken pie is new to this generation, but was commonly used in the old days. Cut the salted and cooked chicken, add to the chicken pie. It was not a measure of economy in those days but a hint of luxury. It would extend a pie several servings and at the same time give an added flavor.

When preparing hamburger steak, add a pinch of clove, a few black walnuts and a little sausage. For seasoning put slices of onion around the steak rather than adding the onion to the meat.

Melba drag makes a most delicious food for home-made candies. Where drag is plenty it may take the place of sugar in many kinds of candies.

Any bits of leftover meat, especially beef, may be ground through the meat chopper, seasoned with a dash of mustard and then packed into a small jar covered with melted fat and set away for sandwich filling. To use as a sauce or with rice and tomato. Even a half of a jelly glass will season a dish of rice or serve for a half-dozen sandwiches.

A nice luncheon dish may be made by using leftover ham (chopped); spread on buttered toast and serve on a nicely poached egg.

Puffed Rice Brittle.—Cook in a saucepan frying pan one cupful of sugar, stirring until melted, and a golden-brown syrup. Stir into this one cupful of puffed rice, previously coated by the oven until crisp. Pour out on a greased pan; cool and break into pieces.

FEARED TO MAKE IT WORSE

Recruit Had His Own Reasons for Not Answering Stuttering Corporal at That Moment.

He was a corporal drill instructor, and though he had an extraordinarily fine word of command, in normal speech, he stuttered—and stuttered badly.

One day a new and particularly clumsy recruit joined his squad and the instructor walked up to him to give him a little private lecture.

"Now look here, my 14-rod," he began. "You're about the st-s-sloppiest thing I've ever had in my squad. You must b-b-buck up. Who's that's your name?"

There was no answer, and the corporal painfully repeated the question, but there was still no answer.

Eventually the sergeant major intervened.

"What's the matter with you, my lad? Why don't you answer the corporal?" he asked.

"B-b-because," explained the unfortunate recruit, "I d-d-didn't want to make work for him."

NEGLECT OF DISABLED MEN

Legion's Investigation Shows Lack of Attention to Men Who Suffered Terrors of War.

Investigations by the American Legion reveal shocking conditions of mismanagement and neglect in the government's treatment of disabled veterans, according to reports of the Legion's findings made public by F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander. The Legion has launched a nation-wide fight for the correction of these conditions, which Mr. Galbraith has described as "a blot and a disgrace on the name of our country."

More than 200,000 veterans are still in hospitals suffering from wounds and infirmities suffered in their country's service. Many of them have been there since they were brought back from France on the hospital ships. Their number is increasing at the rate of 2,500 a month, due mostly to the development of tuberculosis among men who were gassed. Statistics show that more than 50,000 men were discharged with disability rated higher than 10 per cent. Experts agree that the peak in hospitalization will not come for five or ten years. Yet, government hospitals at present are faced with overcrowding and even contract arrangements are not being made rapidly enough to care for the ever increasing tide of disabled men whose conditions demand hospitalization.

Certainly there is no lack of willingness on the part of the American public to do all in human power to aid those who paid the price for the victory. The same experts who estimate that the peak of the problem will not come for five or ten years say to the meantime $2,000,000,000 must be spent in its solution. The government has not been rigidly. More than $500,000,000 already has been spent. Mismanagement is the gist of the Legion's charge. Lack of vision and foresight and the overpresent governmental red tape is blamed as responsible for the death of disabled men before and could reach them, for the incarceration of disabled in jails and insane asylums, and the charity wards of public hospitals where they received the same treatment as paupers.

In addition to its activities in advocating reform in the conduct of the government bureaus the American Legion has dedicated itself to the tremendous task of "humanizing" the dreary lives of 200,000 disabled soldiers who are patients in the hospitals all over the country.

Every Legion post in this country has been assigned to the delicate job of taking care of a certain hospital where former service men are patients.

The Legion's auxiliary also will be mobilized to share in the work and civic and philanthropic organizations in the hospital towns will be enlisted.

There is also the dangerous possibility that the hospital patients, remaining day after day with no interest other than their physical condition, will become bitter against the country which once honored them and which apparently has cast them aside. In several hospitals, Bolshevist agents have distributed inflammatory literature by ingenious methods, of which an example is the inclosure of the printed matter in bouquets of flowers.

In one case discovered by Legion investigators the propaganda was entitled: "You fought for America and what did you get out of it?" And indeed, it does seem that the sick veteran got little out of it except a short period of popularity, the consciousness of having done his duty and a maimed and diseased body.

"The 2,000,000 who are their buddies," said the Legion's national commander, "and are banded together in the American Legion, are determined that the hundred million shall not forget. In this work of giving the disabled man a fair deal and making him content we shall ask the co-operation of every loyal American. We fought together and we will stick together."

WOULD STEER SHY OF CAMERA

Colonel Whittlesey, Leader of "Lost Battalion," Backs Off From Motion Picture Machine.

Although Colonel Whittlesey, an active member of the American Legion, led the famous "lost battalion" through the Argentine and was one of the 54 Americans who won the blue rosette of the congressional medal of honor, he told "Fatty" Arbuckle that he would be "scared to death" if placed before a motion picture camera.

"You can starve a man; you can wound him with bullets," said Colonel Whittlesey during a recent visit to a Hollywood movie studio with the portly comedian, "but you can't dim his love for the movies. Just a few hours after my boys of the Three Hundred and Eighth Infantry had landed in a safe billeting area on being relieved from their perilous position, the whole bunch were in a 'Y' but watching a five-reel comedy."

In These Days.

"Who's the boss here?" asked a traveling salesman as he stopped at a farm with a set of the World's Best Literature in 12 volumes.

"He is," replied the man at the door wearily, pointing to the hired man leaning hard in a field. "I'm only his employer."—American Legion Weekly.

HERTZMAN BROTHERS

THIEF VISITS SMITH & AMBERG'S

Would Be Burglar Foiled by Alertness of Police.

A thief broke into Smith & Amberg's department store Tuesday night, forcing his way through the rear door, by breaking the lock. Police officers had received information that a robbery would probably be attempted that night and were on the ground. Night Police-man Pat Brennan reached the back door of Smith & Amberg's open and went for assistance, but when he came back the thief had made his escape through the front door.

Three hundred retail bags filled with shirts and other articles were found, which the thief had broken into. In his haste, a large oil cloth was spread outside the door to receive other dry goods and the thief left behind him a large amount of rubbish which has been taken over to the police authorities. The police have a clue upon which they are working—the same tip which caused them to be on the lookout for the robbery—and the burglar or the thief who is said to have been performing these operations all along the river, using a boat for transportation, may be apprehended soon.

This is the first time the general crime wave which has been sweeping the country for the past few months has reached Hickman, but citizens of this city would do well to be careful in guarding their homes and business houses.

A. A. Bittles, well known man of this city, according to the Henry Addition, is very ill with pneumonia.

No definite information has been given out concerning the formation or the probable thickness of the rock. However, it is said to be very hard and its penetration is being watched with keen interest.

RAISE, KILL AND CURE PORK

Most Profitable Course for Farmer to Pursue—Any Surplus Can Readily Be Sold.

There is a profit in selling pigs and having pork. And for the farmer who has a surplus of pork, the farmer's most profitable course is to kill, cure and sell surplus pork for his own use and sell any additional amounts for his produce and for which there is a demand. The profit of having curing pork has suffered during the past year, but it is now being brought back to the farmer.

Hogs in Alfalfa, a Good Home-Grown Protein Feed.

of animal industry and the states' extension service. These two bureaus of the United States Department of Agriculture are cooperating to encourage the general adoption of this wholesome usage among farmers. Home-cured pork, scrapple, pork pudding, sausage, dried pork head cheese and such are among the foods which the farmer should get from his own better shelves and not from the city market. All transportation costs and commercial losses in his pocket.

A. C. KILGUS, Raising Hogs and Curing Pork, now being raised by the Department of Agriculture, will soon be ready for sale. New methods and improvements have been given space in this discussion and details of the processes for curing fresh pork have been given. Curing preserves pork with fresh pork flavors and lessens the salt and the incident to some of the older ways of curing the product. Besides being rapid and simple, the new process saves pounds of pork for all portions of the year which formerly had to be eaten soon after slaughter or be wasted.

SUCCULENT FEED FOR STOCK

Silage is Best and Cheapest Way, Say Specialists of Bureau of Animal Industry.

Silage is the best and cheapest form in which to store succulent feed, say specialists of the bureau of animal industry of the United States Department of Agriculture. Many forage crops can be made into silage, but corn, where it can be grown successfully, makes the best silage.

Good silage depends upon cutting the crop at the right stage, fine cutting, even distribution, thorough packing, and plenty of moisture in the cut material. When rightly put up and carefully fed, there should be little if any loss through spoiling.

Silage is well suited for feeding to all live stock. Dairy cows need it perhaps more than other classes of animals, because the succulence which it supplies is very necessary for large milk production. It is a cheap and economical feed for beef cattle, from breeding cow to fattening steer. Sheep like it, and it is well suited to their needs. Even horses and mules may be fed limited quantities of good silage with good results.

SCARCITY OF HEAVY HORSES

Farmers Advised to Breed Every Good Draft Mare to Best Stallion Within Reach.

A year ago most farmers thought the day of the draft horse had passed, but they have to think differently now. They see that they are not going to be able to produce these good big horses in time to take advantage of the beginning of extremely high prices. Under the circumstances, the best thing to do now is to breed every good draft mare to the best stallion within reach, even though he is a considerable distance away.

IMMUNIZING SUCKLING PIGS

Sixty to Seventy Per Cent of Serum Cost Can Be Conserved by Treating at This Age.

Tests made at Ames, Ia., by government veterinarians indicate that permanent immunity against hog cholera may be secured by treating suckling pigs. Sixty to seventy per cent of the serum cost can be saved by treating at this age. Further tests are necessary before this practice can be safely advised.

Marriage a Matter of Business.

Hiring Finnish men to marry Russian women to enable the latter to get out of Russia has become a popular and lucrative business in border towns. The ungallant Finns exact a high price, but the method is infallible. It makes a Finnish subject of the woman, and is recognized as lawful by the two countries, which have assumed diplomatic relations. Endless trouble ensues, of course, if the woman thus freed of Russia refuses to part with her pseudo-husband.

Spread Propaganda on Coins.

Propaganda, like surgery, has made some remarkable advances during the war. A correspondent in Berlin sends us a curious example of one development. It consists of two 1-mark notes both of which have been torn through the center as a result of being folded too often. They have been joined together by strips of adhesive paper, and each strip bears a legend printed in red ink.

The translation of one runs: "Why is the mark worth only 10 pfennig? Ask Lutenhoff and Ebert." The other inquires: "Why is the mark so rattered? Because the state finances are rattered."

No private person is likely to have taken the trouble to equip himself with plasters that are at once adhesive and controversial. Presumably they are a government issue of the banks, so that worn-out paper money may be put on its legs again for further circulation and at the same time a blow be dealt to the government's old enemies.

OLD SHIPS.

There is a memory stays upon old ships. A weathered deck in the musty hold—Of battle scars and prow-carving lips.

Of stormy midnight—a tale untold. They have remembered islands in the dawn.

And windy capes that tried their slender spars. And tortuous channels where their keels have gone.

And calm, little heights of stillness and the stars. Ah, never think that ships forget a shore.

Or bitter seas, or winds that made them wise.

There is a dream upon them, ever more—And there be some who say that sunk ships rise.

To seek familiar harbors in the night. Blowing in mists, their spectral sails like flags.
